

February 16, 2022

RE: Nelson Adams Company (NACO)

To Whom It May Concern:

PolyVision exited the manufacturing of visual display products including Porcelain marker and chalkboards in our Corona, CA facility in 2008 and in our Dixonville, PA Plant in 2009. To support this decision and insure that our customer's product and material requirements are met, we established Nelson Adams as an authorized fabricator of PolyVision CeramicSteel writing surfaces. They meet all the manufacturing and installation criteria required for our authorization and are set up to supply product throughout the United States. They have inventory of PolyVision CeramicSteel and are prepared to meet your specific product requirements within standard industry lead-times.

The authorization process is updated annually. Please use this letter as certification that Nelson Adams has met the fabrication requirements for using PolyVision CeramicSteel.

If you require any additional verification or information, please feel free to contact me directly at 616.262.6785.

We appreciate your interest in using PolyVision e<sup>3</sup> environmental CeramicSteel® on your current and future projects.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'Bill Livengood' in a cursive script.

Bill Livengood
PolyVision - Director of Sales Surfaces